SUPERINTENDENT AND MINER ARE CAUGHT UNDER HEAVY ROOF FALL

Two Fatalities Occur at the Knob Mine Near West Brownsville

OTHERS ARE ALMOST CAUGHT

Work of Rescue of Bodies Hampered By Fear of Repetition of Fall—Workmen Start Work of Removal of Pile of Rock When Frightened.

Two lives were instantly blotted out in the Knob mine of the Pittsburg Coal company, near West Brownsville Wednesday afternoon when the roof gave way and tons of rock came crashing down upon the men without an instant's warning.

The Dead.

E. S. D'Armitt, aged 34 years, of California, general superintendent of the Knob, Albany and Chamount mines of the Pittsburg Coal company.

Joseph Barshotti, aged 20 years, of West Brownsville, track layer in the Knob mine.

An even greater tragedy was narrowly averted when a second fall occurred while a squad of miners was at work trying to recover the bodies of the two men. About 20 men were in the immediate vicinity when overhanging ledges of rock commenced to tumble about them but they all managed to escape without injury. This section of the roof had been loosened by the first cave-in and the remaining ribs failed to hold it.

Crazed by grief over the death of their brother, Steve and John Barshotti rushed into the mine with those volunteering to aid in recovering the bodies. Becoming frantic in their efforts to reach the lifeless form of their brother, they placed the lives of the other men in jeopardy and had to be taken in charge and hurried from the workings.

A third man had a remarkable escape from death. This miner is Richard McKenna and he was working in the same room as Superintendent D'Armitt and Barshotti. The mass as it crashed down upon these men missed him by just a few inches.

Coroner James Heffran was notified of the fatalities and will conduct an investigation next Monday evening at the undertaking rooms of Lawrence B. Frye, in Charleroi.

Superintendent D'Armitt and Barshotti were pulling ribs in a room located about a mile and a half from

LOCAL OPTION GETS BUMPED

Gov. Brumbaugh's Measure Loses in House by the Vote of 78 to 128

LOCAL MEN DIVIDE VOTE

By a vote of 78 to 128 the local option fight, under the county unit proposed by Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh, was lost in the house of representatives Wednesday afternoon. Gov. Brumbaugh announced that the fight had just started to put through a local option measure.

The vote was taken after a hot debate in which bitter invectives were hurled at the governor by those opposed to the local option measure. The most bitter denunciation was that of Representative A. C. Stein, of Pittsburg, who accused the governor of ingratitude and deception.

The Washington county delegation split in their vote. Representative Harry R. Myers, one of the two Republican assemblymen from Washington voted favorable to the measure as did Representative T. B. H. Brownlee. Representative G. P. Baker voted against the bill.

BODY OF UNKNOWN MAN FOUND IN THE RIVER AT MONESSEN

Wanderer Along Shore Discovers Corpse Lying There Half Submerged

INVESTIGATIONS BEING MADE

Is Believed to be Body Either of Monessen Man or Albany Man Who Disappeared Three or Four Months Ago From Vicinity.

Nearly covered by water and with clothing muddy and torn, the badly decomposed body of an unknown man was found in the river near the Monessen brewery this morning at 7:30 o'clock. From evidences the body had been in the water a long time. Deputy Coroner H. W. Day of Monessen, with others is now endeavoring to establish the man's identity and two clues are being followed, one that he is a Monessen foreigner who disappeared three or four months ago, and the other that he is an Albany man who disappeared many weeks ago.

The body was discovered by a wanderer along the shore who in turn informed A. A. White of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad. Mr. White informed Deputy Coroner Day and Undertaker W. S. Moore as assigned to take care of the body.

The body was that of a man about five feet four inches tall, with dark hair. His clothing furnished no clue to identification save a "Personal Liberty" button that was in a pocket.

Upon investigation it was learned that a Monessen man has disappeared about three or four months ago, and this clue is being further investigated. Word came from a deputy coroner at Brownsville that an Albany man had been reported missing, but that he might have been found.

ROSCOE GIRLS IMPROVE UPON ORDINARY HIGH SCHOOL "HIKE"

Sextet From Up-River Town Walk Entire Distance to Charleroi to School—Hikes Still Popular.

Six Roscoe girls who are students at the Charleroi high school this morning adopted the scheme of "hiking" to Charleroi to school and the scheme worked well, even if the sextet did have to miss their morning nap. Morning "hikes" are popular among the folk at the temple of learning on the hill and have been quite the order for several days. The usual plan is for those who can arouse themselves at an early hour for a hike out of town and hike back. The Roscoe sextet improved considerably on this scheme, inasmuch as all they had to do was to hike to school and have it over with. Those in the party which did the hiking this morning were Misses Anna Ashton, Alice Gray, Isabella Coulson, Pauline Collier, Marcella Collier and Mary Latchem.

MURDER CASES ON GRAND JURY LIST

Alleged Homicides to Receive Attention—Other Important Matters Listed

ROAD PETITIONS TO GO OVER

District Attorney Miller and Assistant District Attorney Fergus are getting in shape the trial list for presentment to the May grand jury at Washington. There remains just a week and a half until this grand jury will be in session.

The list of cases so far for its consideration is small, but there will be cases added to the list so that the term will likely be of about the average duration. So far there are cases listed up to and including Thursday of grand jury week, but there will be enough business to keep the jury busy another day.

The grand jury will have to come back the second week, as there is a number of road petitions to consider, including the proposition to have some roads improved with concrete.

Three homicide cases will be laid before this grand jury. The latest is that from Houston in which Joe Aurio is held for the killing of Frank Raguso, a few nights ago. The cases against William Rush and Charles Constable Peter Kromer in Carroll J. Martin held for the murder of township, will be laid before this grand jury; also the homicide case from Shire Oaks, in which Frank Cornish and Charles Nuroski are held for the death of John Baretz. Baretz was beaten up on a Saturday night, lay in a serious condition all day Sunday, and died on Monday. Little was known of circumstances until after Baretz died.

In addition to these three homicide cases, the cases against Sam Roberts, Joseph Roberts and Pete Dailey, alleged to have been implicated in the death of Charles Moffitt, the aged blacksmith, at West Brownsville, will be on this trial list. Sam Roberts, one of the defendants, has not yet been apprehended.

THE KNIFE.

A man who was locked up in the county jail had in his possession when arrested a long knife which had been fashioned out of a file. It was an extremely dangerous looking weapon with its razor like edge and its long, slender point. It was not a pocket knife used for the paring or cleaning of nails. It was not a table knife such as a nomad might carry in his pocket. It was a murderous weapon evidently created for but one purpose and that purpose having to do with the shedding of blood, says the Washington Reporter.

A knife is ever a dangerous weapon. It is more deadly than the revolver or the club. The very thought of cold steel is repulsive to normal folk. What can be thought of the man who carries a particularly murderous type of such weapon about with him? Can such a man be considered a good citizen? Can such a man be looked on as one who seeks to keep the peace and promote the well being of the community?

We do not pretend to be capable of telling the officers of the law their business but in cases where a prisoner is found possessed of such a weapon as this knife converted from a file it would seem well for the officers to take the whole situation into careful consideration. We need an ending of this promiscuous weapon carrying and particularly of this tendency of some individuals to carry about these long, sharpened knives which open the doorway to murder and sudden death.

RENO DIVORCES BANNED

While Reno is rejoicing over the revival of the prosperity which has attended the return of the six months residence requirement for divorce suits, the state of Maryland has thrown a rude interruption into the festivities. A decision handed down by the court of appeals of Maryland invalidates Reno divorces of which many have been secured by Maryland litigants. The court holds that where a husband or wife goes to another state for the sole purpose of obtaining a divorce the decree is not valid in the state of the matrimonial domicile. This is now law of the state of Maryland and must remain so unless it is reversed by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Reno, a year or so ago, tired of the scandal of the six months residence requirement and made one year the minimum, says the Uniontown Herald. With the change, business declined. Not only did the lawyers lament, but the hotel keepers, the merchants and all others who are in business in Reno clamored for a return to the good old days of the liberal divorce colony. Their pleas were heard and the legislature at the last session gave back the six months feature. The effect was at once apparent. Several hundred seeking divorce have already established themselves in Reno. The effect of the Maryland decision is yet to be seen, but it must be stunning.

What's the use of a divorce which is good only in Nevada? This will be the extent of its virtue if other states follow the Maryland example. It is cheering to discover that Nevada is not to be permitted to prostitute itself even if it is perfectly willing to do so. Divorce is bad enough under proper auspices, but under the Reno plan it has amounted to a national scandal.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

In the early days of the Uniontown Herald which by the way, is not so long ago one of the city editors who came out from Pittsburg and worked there was "Nick" Carter. His cards were printed "Harry Carter," but his friends called him "Nick." Now he is the manager of the New York Hippodrome.

According to a story sent to Pittsburg by a correspondent, Nick was in Philadelphia the other day. He stopped at the Vendig Hotel. The following morning he went from the hotel to the Broad street station, carrying his grip. The distance is less than a block. A young negro stopped him.

"Say, mister," said the negro, "can't you let a poor black boy earn breakfast money totin' yer grip?" Nick handed it over and the negro walked a few feet behind.

"Yer from the south, ain't yer?" he asked.

"Why do you ask?"

"Well, you seems so generous to a poor black boy that I sure thought yer from the south. Here you is givin' this poor black boy a lot of money so's he can get hisself some breakfast. You surely must be from the south, ain't you?"

Nick said "yes" just for fun? "I'm from the south."

"I knowed it," said the negro. "All you southerners is so generous to us poor black boys."

At the station Nick gave him a quarter. The negro squinted at it. "Hum!" he mused. "What part of the south you from—Pittsburg?"

"Let me see, now," said the minister at the christening, dipping his pen into the ink to record the event. "Isn't this the 27th?"

"I should say not," reported the indignant mother; "it is only the ninth!"

the mouth of the mine and trying to save a part of the car track from destruction by roof falls. It is supposed that while the roof seemed perfectly solid that it had become loosened and the removal of the supports let it suddenly give way while the two men were entirely unconscious of their danger.

Many tons of brick, slate and earth fell. The roof that gave way was about 30 feet long and several feet wide. Superintendent D'Armitt and Barsanti were working almost in the center of the room and received the full force of the impact. Miners were hurriedly summoned and it was only a few minutes until the efforts to recover the bodies were under way.

Workmen are proceeding with all possible haste in the effort to reach the bodies but because of the second heavy fall, this may not be possible for some time. Scores of miners are engaged in the task of removing the huge mass, working in squads of 30 and in shifts of four hours.

OHIO WOMAN'S DROPSY CURED!

Tells Everybody How This Happy Result Was Produced.

"Dear Editor:—For a long time I had been suffering from dropsy. I had puffy pouches under my eyse. My feet. ankles and abdomen were swelled to twice their natural size and a finger pressure on the swellings left a white dent which remained for some time. This water often pressed against my heart and caused a smothering sensation. I had severe headaches, continuous backache, dizzy sensations and rheumatic pains throughout my entire body. The kidneys were off in their action and this poison backed up in my system. In spite of my doctoring and the taking of many remedies I obtained no relief.

Finally I was given a few Lloyd's kidney and rheumatism tablets, the new scientific prescription. These did me such good that I at once got a larger size and in a week's time all the swellings, backache, and other symptoms left me like magic. I now feel like a new woman. Lloyd's Tablets deserve all the credit for curing me of the trouble and ridding me of the terrible agony. I advise all to be sure and get from their druggist today, Lloyd's, the kind that cured me, and cleanse their kidneys before too late.

Newark Manager Comes Home to Attend Funeral of Mother-in-Law —Talks Briefly of Team and Says Loss of Kauff is Felt.

Manager Bill Phillips of the Newark Feds was at home over Wednesday for the first time since the baseball training season began, coming to attend the funeral of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Rosana Dinsmore.

Manager Phillips said that Newark was getting a good start, and added with a grim smile, "financially." He thinks he has the best team in the Federal league and is confident of much success this season.

Asked about his team's makeup, he said, "I have a good ball club, but so far have been somewhat crippled. The loss of Benny Kauff of course left a bad hole, but I have just as good a man in Rousch. The trouble is, Rousch has been kept out of the game by injuries to his legs." Manager Phillips left this afternoon for Newark to join his club.
